

IMPORTANT NOTICE FOR ANNAPOLIS COUNTY RESIDENTS

The Municipality of the County of Annapolis (Annapolis County) will no longer receive curbside collection of garbage, recyclables and compost by Valley Waste as a result of non-payment for services since March 2018.

Effective August 18, Annapolis County will be responsible for delivering these services to its residents.

Residents of Annapolis County should take note of the following:

- Residential curbside garbage, recyclables and compost collection by Valley Waste will discontinue for Annapolis County effective end of day August 17, 2018.
- Annapolis County will be responsible for providing this service to its residents effective August 18, 2018.
- Annapolis County residents can continue to take items directly to one of Valley Waste's two transfer stations in Lawrencetown or Kentville. Tipping fees will apply.

Fees: http://www.vwrm.com/Disposal_Fees.html

Locations: http://www.vwrm.com/Disposal_Locations.html

Valley Waste will continue to provide curbside collection for residents of Annapolis Royal, Middleton, and Bear River First Nation and for residents in the six remaining parties to Valley Waste, which includes the Towns of Annapolis Royal, Berwick, Kentville, Middleton and Wolfville and the Municipality of the County of Kings.

Valley Waste will continue to accept materials from industrial, commercial and institutional establishments located in Annapolis County at our Management Centres (Lawrencetown & Kentville).

If you have questions about residential curbside pick up, please call the Annapolis County office at 902-532-2331.

Annapolis County Service Discontinuation Frequently Ask Questions

Will waste removal / garbage pick-up be stopped for Annapolis County?

Annapolis County owes a significant amount of money to Valley Waste, which has had significant negative impact on Valley Waste. As a result of non-payment, Annapolis County will be responsible for this service as of August 18. This will allow Valley Waste to provide one more cycle of pick up for Annapolis County residents.

Why are you stopping waste removal / garbage pick up in Annapolis County?

Annapolis County owes a significant amount of money to Valley Waste, which has had significant negative impact on Valley Waste. As a result of non-payment, Annapolis County will be responsible for this service as of August 18.

How much does Annapolis County owe Valley Waste?

Annapolis County owes more than $700,000 for service received between April and July.

What, specifically, are the services Annapolis County receives from Valley Waste?

The fees paid to Valley Waste by each of the municipal parties cover all aspects of solid-waste management. This includes curbside collection, landfilling garbage, processing recyclables, composting organics as well as all associated costs of handling and transferring the materials to their final destination including the operation of the two Management Centres. Fees also include education, enforcement and administrative activities to ensure the region is compliant with provincial regulations pertaining to solid waste.

Why aren't they paying?

That is a question best directed to Annapolis County.

I am a resident of Annapolis County, will my pick up date change on August 18?

That is a question that is best directed to the Annapolis County office, since they will be responsible for the service as of then.

Is service discontinued for commercial waste removal as well?

Commercial and service to businesses is user-pay so it will not be affected at the Management Centres in Lawrencetown and Kentville. Curbside collection for commercial customers will cease.

Will this affect residents who use seasonal bins?

Seasonal bins are owned by Valley Waste and are part of the service provided to Annapolis County. Annapolis County will be responsible for providing service to seasonal users as of August 18.

When would service stop?

Valley Waste will discontinue service end of day on August 17. Annapolis County will be responsible for solid waste collection as of August 18.

Are residents outside of the Municipality of the County of Annapolis affected?

Services for all residents of Annapolis Royal, Berwick, Kentville, Middleton, Wolfville, the Bear River First Nation and the Municipality of the County of Kings will continue as usual.

Who will pick up our garbage as of August 18?

Annapolis County will be responsible for solid waste collection in their municipality as of August 18. It would be best to direct this question to the Annapolis County office or the Annapolis County Council.

What do we do with our garbage if nobody picks it up?

This question should be directed to the Annapolis County office.

Can Annapolis County residents drop off garbage at the transfer stations?

Valley Waste will continue to accept materials from residents and industrial, commercial and institutional establishments located in Annapolis County. Tipping fees apply.

http://www.vwrm.com/Disposal_Fees.html

What is the address for the transfer stations?

Lawrencetown transfer station address: 343 Elliott Road, Lawrencetown (exit 19 on Hwy 101).

Kentville transfer station address: 100 Donald Hiltz Connector Rd, Kentville Industrial Park.

Please check the Valley Waste website at vwrm.com or call 902-679-1325 (toll-free: 1-877-927-8300) for hours of operation. http://www.vwrm.com/Disposal_Locations.html

I don't have a car or any means to take my garbage to the transfer station, what am I going to do?

We recommend you contact the Annapolis County office to discuss option for waste removal.

Who can I speak to about this issue?

If you have any further questions about Annapolis County's position or plan regarding curbside pick-up and processing of solid waste, composting and recyclables, we encourage you to speak with your Annapolis County Councillor.

If you are looking for information from Valley Waste, please call 902-679-1325 (toll-free: 1-877-927-8300).